STOLLER ROOT FEED DRY®

ROOTS ARE THE “BRAINS” OF THE PLANT

Plant roots produce most of the hormones that plants need for proper growth, fruit development and yield. A healthy, vigorous root system needs proper nutrition to sustain the life of the plant. Stoller Root Feed Dry promotes continuous growth of the roots, maintaining the optimum nutritional balance throughout the plant's growth cycle, regardless of the phenological state (crop stage) and climatic variations.

OPTIMIZING YIELD POTENTIAL

Every Stoller product works to protect, enable, or enhance the maximum genetic expression of the plant.
